Message from the President

Dear colleagues and members of ESTES,

I would like to welcome all of you in the name of the European Society for Trauma and Emergency Surgery (ESTES). The Thirteenth European Congress of Trauma and Emergency Surgery was very successful from May 12–15, 2012 in Basel, Switzerland under the Presidency of Dominik Heim and Reto Babst. The ESTES board would again like to stress the importance of your requests and needs; thus, please share your ideas and plans regarding trauma and emergency surgery with us. ESTES board and sections were very active in organizing several international postgraduate courses. I would like to thank institutional, individual members and corporate sponsors of ESTES who supported us throughout 2012. Our new website <http://www.estesonline.org> will be more interactive compared to the previous version and try to attract new members by several animations and videos.

We will organize the 14th European Congress of Trauma and Emergency Surgery during May 04–07, 2013 in Lyon, France for you with enriched topics and various new postgraduate courses together with the congress President Eric Voiglio. I hope all enjoyed celebrating the holidays and wish that 2013 would bring peace to our world.

Prof. Dr. Korhan Taviloglu

President of ESTES 2012/2013

Postgraduate course in Medical Response to Major Incidents MRMI

organized in collaboration between the European Society for Trauma & Emergency Surgery (ESTES), International Association for Trauma Surgery and Intensive Care (IATSIC) and Karolinska University Hospital, Stockholm, Sweden

The course is planned as pre-congress course to the International Surgical Week in Helsinki, August 25–29 (www.isw2013.com)

A boat trip is planned from Stockholm to Helsinki for participants attending the International Surgical Week.

Time: August 22-24, 2013 (Instructor training August 21-24)

Location: Karolinska University Hospital, Solna, Stockholm

Chairman of MRMI faculty: Sten Lennquist

Chairman, local organizing committee: Carl Montán

Design of the course

The course is based on an advanced simulation model (www.macsim.se) training the whole chain of response: Scene, transport, hospitals, coordination & command, including also training in triage and individual patient-management. It is totally interactive, starting with one day of preparative training in groups, followed by two full days of simulation exercises with all participants active in their normal positions and with careful evaluation and analysis of the result of the response.

This requires a distribution of participants in accordance with the roles during the simulation exercise. In the standardized application form, the applicant has to indicate his/her preference and competence for the different roles and this may be used in the composition of participants.

Instructor training

Instructor training is offered for a limited number of participants who previously have passed a basic course and/or have specific qualifications meriting for instructor training.

Accommodation

Accommodation is not included in the course fee but room reservation can be done with discount for participants.

Course fees (Members of ESTES and/or IATSIC 10% discount on course fees)

Nurses, paramedics and ambulance staff:

Basic course 3 full days including lunches but not accommodation

450

Doctors and administrative staff:

Basic course 3 full days including lunches but not accommodation
